About

Get Crackin is an intuitive online application to get users organized and on task. The application is focused on keeping users inspired and ready to complete even the most daunting of tasks. While using the application the user will be able to add new projects and tasks along with setting the priority level of each task. Added features such as a double click to edit right on the page, as well as the draggable and droppable sorting of the interface will add that extra functionality that users will find irresistible. The color indicators will show at a quick glance what needs to be done first. Upon login to the users "Project Hatchery" they will be greeted with all their current projects in a clean and simple list.

Target Audience

Get Crackin is the perfect tool for users looking for a quick and easy way to organize a busy schedule. Almost anyone who has to juggle multiple projects can benefit from the functionality and usability of this application. However Get Crackin's distinct and unique interface is focused on people looking for a bit more excitement than the normal mundane app. The fun and funky app will expect that the average user, male or female, will be between the ages of 18-35, have general computer knowledge and uses online apps to help them with their busy schedule.
